Vintage Posters

On press these posters ask more of make ready pros. They ask more of paper handling experts, that ask more of printers who need to register one colour to the next. It's a simple fact that with larger format letterpress printing, the demands are higher, the flexibility harder to control and the rate of wastage is high.

Creating these posters was a dedication to the longer story or poem, the rendering of which is not for carefully storing away onto your bookshelf but rather, for posting on your wall, for reflection and inspiration.
