Testament for Man, Gilberto Meza

$80.00

Selected Poems of Gilberto Meza with translations by Therea Moritza and A.F. Moritz. Printed by Dreadnaught Press, 1982, with illustrations by Ludwig Zeller. Gathering the poems written from 1973 to 1979, Testament for Man describes Meza's own search for meaning and the fulfillment of his faith; "I can believe in the importance that art has for man and society as an ideological weapon for change, and above all in art's primordial importance as the fittest medium for the integral realization of the human being."

Hand printed, perfect-bound with Currency Cover and Caress text, 2 colour covers, black text, with 2 colour end-papers - 4.25" x 7.25"
